Beckman, Casey After Highways

Will Go to Austin For Meeting With the State Highway Group Feb. 20

County Commissioners Clarence Beckman and Calvin Casey will meet the State Highway Commission in Austin next Wednesday to present three projects.

Mr. Beckman will present the paving of the highway from Umbarger to Buffalo Lake. A caliche base was put down on this road at the expense of Precinct 2. This base will be gone in a few years unless an asphalt top is run to hold the base.

Mr. Casey will present two projects: Extension of Western Avenue 1¼ miles south from Highway 87; and extension of Georgia Street from the Potter county line to Highway 87. Both of these extensions would be in the nature of farm-to-market roads.

Rex Baxter of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce will accompany the commissioners to assist in presenting the projects to the State Highway Commission.

Mr. Beckman states that the Randall County Commissioners are urging the Buffalo Lake road as a federal project in order to care for traffic to a federal park. As the matter stands now, this road is the problem of Precinct 2, and is costing too much money. There was a good road south from Umbarger before the lake was built. When the federal government built the dam and opened a road through the property it is winding and has caused much trouble to farmers in the south part of the county who must use the road to reach market. The federal government is making no effort to keep the road through the property in good condition.

Mr. Beckman asks that citizens who can assist in this project shall do so at once as work must be started to put this road up in good condition.

Farmers Heard C. L. Thomas in Talk on PMA

C. L. Thomas, prominent farmer of Pampa and member of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee of the Production and Marketing Administration, visited the Randall County Agent's office Monday.

The occasion for Mr. Thomas' visit was a meeting with the farm committeemen of Randall county and W. B. Dryden, Fieldman for the Panhandle District. Mr. Dryden and Mr. Thomas discussed the various agricultural programs now being administered by the P. M. A.

Each community of Randall county was represented at the meeting by the regular committeemen.

Mr. Dryden discussed the various soil conservation practices which are approved for Randall county in 1946 and the methods to be followed in reporting the various phases of soil conservation carried out.

Mr. Thomas discussed administrative matters and told the commiteemen some of the reasons for reduced budgets in state and county offices. He stated that the various programs required more committee responsibility even though less money is available for paying expenses for the work.

Neblett Hospital Joins Blue Cross

The Neblett Hospital has become a member of "Group Hospital Service," which is the Blue Cross Plan of Texas.

This arrangement makes the Blue Cross Hospital Service available to all citizens of the Canyon community who can qualify through employed groups or such independent groups as are operating in this territory.

The Texas plan is one of the 87 Blue Cross Plans operating throughout the United States and Canada, which have extended hospital care protection to over 20,000,000 people.

The Blue Cross Hospital Service Plan is rapidly becoming nationally recognized as a public health program. The Hospital Service Plan Commission has recently designated February 21 as "Blue Cross Day," to be celebrated throughout the nation. Then, in our own state, on February 7, it was announced that Governor Coke R. Stevenson had written a proclamation designating February 21 as "Blue Cross Day for the State of Texas.

Parking Habit Must Be Ended

Double and Triple Parking on North Side of Court House Must Be Terminated

Mayor W. A. Warren stated Monday that something must be done about double parking on the north side of the square.

New parking lines will be run along Fourth Avenue this week, and the city police force put on the job of keeping cars from double parking. Saturday night cars were parked four deep in places along Fourth. It was hard to get through this jam, and exeremely dangerous.

When the State Highway Department took over the maintenance of Fourth Avenue through Canyon an agreement was reached with the city that only a single line of parallel cars could be parked on both sides of this street. The Highway Department left the policing of traffic up to the city. The City Commission does not wish to start handing out traffic violation tickets for those who double park, but under the contract with the State something must be done to check the parking abuse.

Mr. Warren states that unless the city is able to cope with the parking jam, State Highway Patrolmen will take over, and stiff fines will be imposed upon all violators. He hopes that this may be avoided.

Randall County Made Record in the Victory Loan Drive Ending Dec. 31

County Chairman R. H. Wright has received a final report on the Victory Loan Drive, which ended December 31.

Randall county was credited with the sale of $115,262 of E Bonds, and an overall of $255,279. The quota of E Bonds for the county was $80,000, with an overall quota of $125,000.

Randall county stood near the top of counties of Texas in the percentage sale of E Bonds during the drive. The county was above both the State and National averages. In Texas the percentage sale of E Bonds was 103%; and the overall percentage was 222%. In the nation the percentage sale of E Bonds was 111%; the overall 192%.

On January 1st the name of E Bonds was changed to U. S. Savings Bonds and citizens were encouraged to continue buying these bonds. No quotas are assigned to the various counties. However, in Randall county the sales continue daily at both the First National Bank and the postoffice. The government is urging that those who bought bonds regularly during the war shall continue to make their purchases as a means of hedging against inflation, and to prepare for the depression which is expected to follow in a few years.

Farmers Protest Office Changes

Ask For Agricultural Building or AAA Office Stay on First Floor of Court House

The Commissioners Court voted last month to open the north door of the court house, and offered the use of the offices on the third floor of the building to the County Agent and AAA committeemen.

At the meeting of the court Monday committeemen from every precinct of the county called upon the court stating that the plan was impracticable on account of so many farmers being unable to climb the two flights of stairs when they had business under the AAA program Roger Gist, county chairman, was spokesman for the farm organizations.

The court had voted at the start of the war to close the north entrance of the court house in order to provide a council room for farm organizations for the duration. When the court house was remodeled the county court room was converted into offices with the view of offering this location to the County Agent and the farm organizations.

Representatives of all precincts were present Monday to ask the court to either allow the offices to remain on the first floor of the court house, or that a separate building be erected, as has been done in many counties.

No action was taken on the latest request at Monday's meeting. A petition had been filed several months ago to open the north door, which was followed by another petition asking that the present set up be not disturbed.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Editorials

It was a pretty set up after all, and the result no doubt pleased all of the political big-wigs of Washington. The House passed the Fair Practice Bill as submitted by the President. All Northern Democrats and Republicans who have large negro voting strength in their districts supported the measure. The President approved the measure, making him solid with those black districts. The Senate took the bill right at the start of the session when there was nothing else to do but shoot the hot breezes. For weeks the Southern Senators held the floor, and would have held it until the end of the session. But the record had been written, so that every Representative and every Senator may go back home and tell his constitutents just how he stood, and how the bill would have been passed had it not been for that small group of willful talkers from the South. They, and they alone, are to blame for the defeat of the bill. But deep down in the hearts of many of those statesmen, there was a prayer of thankfulness that the small group held out and talked this foolish bill to death. The whole thing was political dynamite, and every member in Congress knew it. The bill has been killed, and now the members are free to start work on legislation which is needed by the nation. Some people are foolish enough to think that the bill was a slap at the Negro. This is far from the facts. The bill provided that when you wanted to hire a man or woman you must accept the first person who applied for employment, regardless of race, creed or religion, and a government snooper would be on hand to see to it that you did just that. You might want to hire a Negro, but if a white showed up and wanted the job, you must give it to him; you might want to hire a Baptist, or a Methodist, or a Jew, or a Catholic, but your hands would have been tied—you must hire without distinction. And one of the most vicious government agencies would be on hand to see that the bill was enforced. This was the vicious, and unnecessary phase of the bill; which is now past history so far as this session of Congress is concerned. It will be back next session, just as vicious as ever.

Lt. Governor John Lee Smith has announced for Governor. This was expected. Smith has been trying to keep himself in the public eye ever since he went to Austin. He thinks that the people of Texas are sick and tired of CIO, strikes, and unions of all kinds. As a result he stands for the open shop. His campaign will be based on labor agitation. Perhaps there are enough people in Texas who have become disgusted with the antics of the CIO to put Smith in the Governor's office. And again, Smith may have been wasting his time in making so many speeches. Many things may develop in the next five months. With the people upset by the war and trying to grope their way back to a normal state of affairs, most anything can happen. However, we are still convinced that a majority of the voters would welcome a safe, sound, conservative candidate, who will take the middle of the political road, rather than try to appeal to the prejudices of the people.

President Truman must have a Democratic House of Representatives in 1946, or he will be defeated in 1948. The election of 1946 is vital to the political life of the President. The Democratic leaders know that this is true, and the President is calling in the substantial Democratic leaders, asking what he shall do. It is noticeable that Henry Wallace is not among the Democratic leaders being consulted. The President knows that Wallace is after his job, and if Truman is not re-nominated, or should refuse to accept the nomination there is a strong possibility that Wallace will be the Democratic nominee for President in 1948. The political fate of the President is at stake. As a result he is proceeding with caution in handling the greatest domestic problem of the day—strikes. It would be interesting to see how Franklin D. Roosevelt would handle the situation. He would not be so cautious as Truman is today. Probably the Truman method will be more effective, in so far as the President is trying to keep wages within reason for the purpose of hedging against inflation. Roosevelt would be willing to give labor all that it seeks, and let capital shift for itself. Truman is trying to take the middle ground, and for that reason is distrusted by both sides. This warning: The Republicans are going to throw everything they have at the President's head in the campaign this fall. They are going to make a supreme effort to elect a Republican House. Texas will not be affected by this election. However, some irratic Democrat might slip into office who would help the Republicans in their scheme. Senator Connally will be re-elected, and the Democrats of Texas must be sure that safe men are elected to the House. Likewise, the campaign is going to cost a lot of money in doubtful states. Texas Democrats will be called upon to share this financial load.

Down Austin way the laymen are having a lot to say about an innocent looking bill which passed the last session of the legislature, and has been upheld by the Supreme Court. The law provides that you are a criminal if you write any sort of legal instrument for anyone excepting yourself. The bill provides that all lawyers must be members of the State Bar Association, pay regular fees, and shall have the exclusive right to draw all legal instruments. You will be subject to punishment if you try to be a lawyer by helping your neighbors. Perhaps that is correct, since the courts are cluttered with cases which seek to straighten out the tangles resulting from layman mistakes in legal procedure. It is the same old story of every profession wanting its members regulated. The doctors got through such a bill, but now are calling for help as the federal government threatens to regulate the profession beyond reason. The dentists got through such a bill, and if the federal regulations take in the doctors the dentists will be the next on the list. Lawyers compose about 75% of all law making bodies. Maybe they think they are secure in keeping their profession out of the clutches of Washington. The situation is rather funny to newspaper men. This profession has tried for years to secure the passage of a sensible publication law in Texas, but without success. We just simply cannot get ourselves regulated—and maybe it is better that we are still free to run our publications to suit ourselves rather than have a government snooper on our heels.

This is Boy Scout Week. We noted by a newspaper that a sheriff was the first man to make a large contribution to his local Boy Scout fund. His statement was that a Boy Scout had never been arrected in his county, and no Boy Scout had ever given the least trouble to the peace officers. That is a great tribute to the men who directed these boys, and to the organization itself which teaches such high ideals. Texas spends millions of dollars on youthful criminals. Naturally no organization could keep all these criminals straight. But a strong organization in every town would do a lot to straighten out boys and keep them straight, regardless of their home surroundings. Give liberally to the Boy Scouts. This is one local organization from which you received adequate returns in the lives of the boys of this community.

Milk producers of this territory decided at the last minute not to call a strike, and refuse to deliver milk to Amarillo. That was just what OPA suspected. Farmers are patriotic and the word, "strike" is obnoxious to them. But in the milk case the farmers were whipped simply because OPA thought it could outbluff the farmers. It is now proposed that a national strike be called by farmers. It is proposed that all foods be held off the markets so long as a million or so skilled workers, the highest paid mechanics in the world, remain out on strike. If this could be done, it would certainly be an effective means of bringing an end to strikes. When men run out of food, they will be willing to talk sense. Perhaps the farmers could not put over such a huge strike, but it might be worth a test.

The Jap general who thought he could save his neck by appealing to the Supreme Court of the United States has lost out. He will have to die. Two of the judges condemned the trial in harsh words. We wonder what they would have thought of the murderous Jap if one of their sons had been on the Death March. It would have made a difference. Don't you think so?

Alimony is the high cost of leaving.

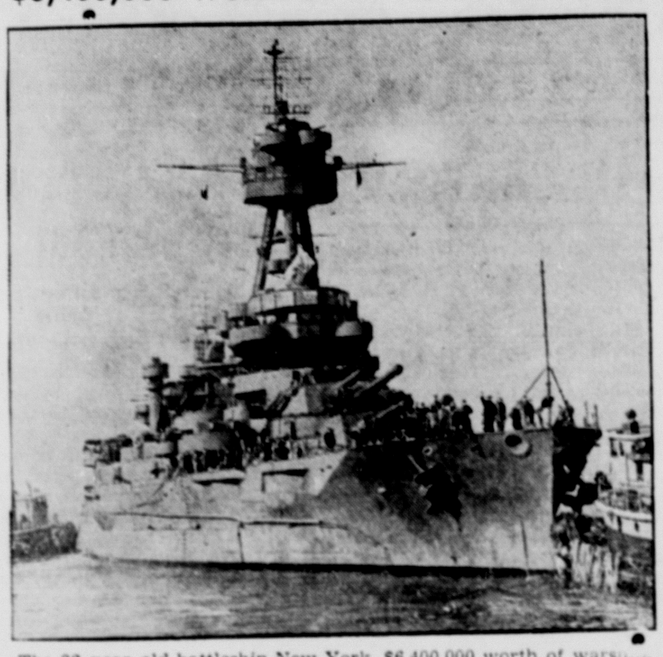
$6,400,000 Worth of 'A-Bomb' Sacrifice



The 32-year-old battleship New York, $6,400,000 worth of warship, begins her last voyage—from New York to the Marshall Islands to be one of the hundred ships submitted to atom bomb tests. She's a 34,000-tonner. Tests begin in May to determine what damage atom bombs can do in naval warfare.

Governor Coke Stevenson promises to make a statement regarding his political ambitions, or lack of political ambitions during the coming week or ten days. The people are waiting for his decision. He continues to be the Cool Calculating Coke, who refuses to be stirred up by the world's changing scene. When he does speak, his decision will be understandable. He will either run for a third term, or will state definitely his determination not to run. A lot of politicians throughout Texas may have to change their minds after Coke has his say. What his decision will be is anyone's guess. If he follows his own desire in the matter, he will retire to his ranch. But the people are pleased with his careful administration and may demand that he continue in office. We shall see what we shall see.

OPA is trying to stage a comeback. It is threatened that rationing will be restored to meats. As far as tires are concerned, dealers would welcome a return to rationing. There are no tires on hand, and the people are demanding that they be produced. Lifting tire rationing when it was done may be a part of the scheme to restore OPA powers.

The federal bureaucrats are trying to get control of the oil supply of Texas. Naturally all who have anything to do with oil in Texas are opposed to such a move. States Right (Where have we heard that word) is about a thing of the past. Washington is seeking to regulate every phase of our lives. This is no mere threat, but a sad reality.

We don't know anything about it, but just cannot help wondering. Why did both Churchill and Lady Astor show up in this nation while the loan to Britain was being discussed? You understand both are public advocates of this loan. Is there a reason?

THINK THIS ONE OVER

Arbuments for a state-controlled medical system lose their force in the light of the following editorial from the Christian Science Monitor:

"President Truman's citation of draft rejections as a compelling reason for the introduction of compulsory sickness insurance in the United States loses it plausibility on comparison with draft rejections in Britain where this insurance prevails.

"In his message recommending government medical care insurance, the President said, 'The number of those rejected for military service were about 30 per cent of all those examined.'

"But in Great Britain, which has had compulsory sickness insurance since 1911, the draft rejections were far higher. How they ran is indicated in the published Annual Reports on the British Army. Rejections for the 10 years ending with 1936 are available in the Annual Report for that year.

"During all the 10 years, 677,515 were served with notice papers and 400,775 were rejected, or 59 per cent.

"Even allowing generously for the effects of a lower standard of living, if Britain after 25 years of sickness insurance, had a rejection rate practically twice that of America, there seems to be little argument in the draft rejections for socialized medicine."

The same old spring battle: Chickens vs. flowers and gardens. The two simply will not mix. If your neighbors will not recognize your rights to improve your home and raise a garden, then it is up to you to kill their chickens. There is nothing they can do about it, except raise a row. Incidentally, stray dogs can do as much damage as chickens.

The telephone company reports to those waiting for service

The telephone company is anxious to bring you the service you've ordered.

Telephone factories are working hard at the tremendous task of catching up with America's backed-up demand for telephone service. (More than 2,000,000 people are waiting throughout the nation.)

In December factories were making telephone instruments at the rate of 230,000 a month. By January 1, in the five states served by this company, about 60,000 of these newly manufactured instruments already had been installed.

But making and installing telephone instruments is only a part of the job of providing service for everybody. We are planning, making, and installing the great volume of switchboards, dial equipment, cable, wire—and even buildings—necessary to make those telephones work.

By the year's end, enough central office equipment to connect 40,000 additional telephones had been made and installed in this company's territory. This is the time-taking part of the job—the apparatus is complicated to make and complicated to install. Equipment for 10,000 telephones must be wired to handle nearly 50 million possible telephone connections. We're pushing this complex job as fast as we can; it will take time, but we're doing our best to take as little time as possible.

Miles and miles of cable to connect telephones with central offices have been put in since the end of the war; and in the last few weeks, by reason of increased supplies of men and material, the rate of installation has doubled.

No time has been lost in getting building projects under way in places where new construction is needed to house additional central office equipment.

We have made progress—and every month during the coming year our progress will be still more rapid. Every one will get service in his proper turn. Your service once ordered, you can be sure that your application is before us; and as soon as the equipment is available to connect your telephone, we will notify you and arrange details for providing your service.

Rotary Forum Plans Ready

First Lecturer to Be Presented Monday in Schools, W. T. Auditorium

Plans for the Institute of International Understanding, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Canyon, have been completed, according to Dr. S. H. Condron, president of the civic club.

The first evening forum will be held in the college auditorium Monday, February 18, at 8 o'clock. Opening the series of four weekly addresses will be Morris H. Coers of Indianapolis, Ind., whose discussion topic will be "Making International Organization Effective."

In addition to his address at the public forum on Monday evening, Mr. Coers will talk to the students of local high schools at 2:30 p. m. at the Canyon High School auditorium.

During the past nine years, more than 1,700 Institutes of International Understandings have been sponsored by Rotary Clubs in the United States and Canada. Through these Institutes, an effort has been made to bring to individuals and to communities an appreciation of the problems arising because of the shrinking world and to give them factual background information on current world events.

Arrangements for the Institute program in Canyon are made in cooperation with West Texas State College.

The Rotary Club of Canyon is one link in a chain of more than 5,400 Rotary Clubs which encircle the world and which have nearly a quarter of a million business and professional leaders as members in some 60 countries. One of the principal objectives of this world-wide service organization is "the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace," and the Institute programs are one of the many ways in which this objective is being implemented.

Other Institute of International Understanding speakers will be presented here on February 25, March 4, and March 11.

Admission is free to the public, inasmuch as the institute is a public service of the Rotary Club and the college.

H. T. WILCHER

Canyon, Texas

By what narrow margins some men miss fame. George D. Prentice was an editor in Louisville, Kentucky, and he wrote poems, almost a hundred years ago. Every schoolboy is familiar with William Cullen Bryant's "Thanatopsis," but virtually no one knows Prentice's "Flight of Years" and yet it has a sublimity of thought and imagery that rivals Bryant's finest lines. Whether the fact that most of the publishing houses of size for the first century of the United States were in New England, and for that matter still are and most of the magazines and literary critics flourished there, while Prentice lived in the South—whether that fact has caused the elevation of second-rate versifiers like Holmes, Lowell and Whittier and the neglect of others of equal or superior gifts, let someone else say.

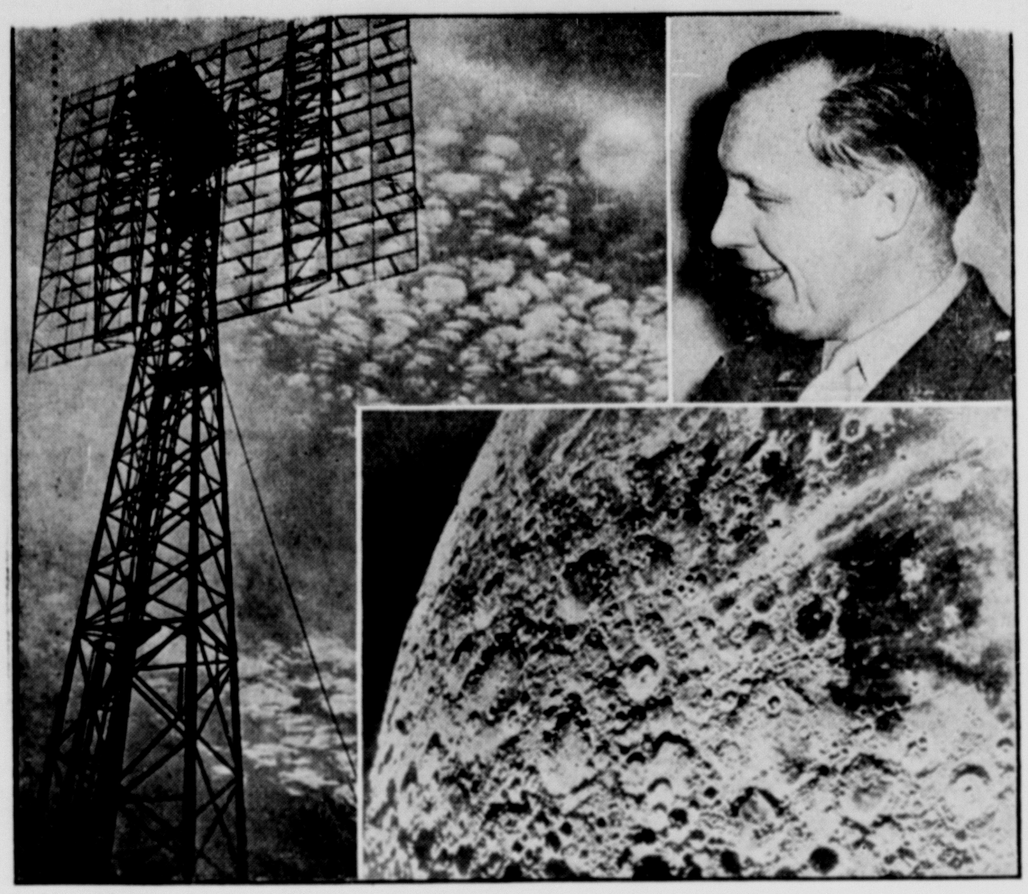
But here is a quotation from "Flight of Years" by George W. Prentice:

Remorseless Time!

Fierce spirit of the glass and scythe! what power
Can stay him in his silent course, or melt
His iron heart to pity? On, still on
He presses, and forever. The proud bird,
The condor of the Andes, that can soar
Through heaven's unfathomable depths, or brave
The fury of the northern hurricane
And bathe his plumage in the thunder's home,
Furls his broad wings at nightfall, and sinks down
To rest upon the mountain-crag—but Time
Knows not the weight of sleep or weariness,
And night's deep darkness has no chain to bind
His rushing pinion. Revolutions sweep
O'er earth, like troubled visions o'er the breast
Of dreaming sorrow; cities rise and sink.
Like bubbles on the water; fiery isles
Spring, blazing, from the ocean, and go back
To their mysterious caverns; mountains rear
To heaven their bald and blackened cliffs, and bow
Their tall heads to the plain; new empires rise,
Gathering the strength of hoary centuries,
And rush down like the Alpine avalanche,
Startling the nations; and the very stars,
Yon bright and burning blazonry of God,
Glitter awhile in their eternal depths,
And like the Pleiad, loveliest of their train,
Shoot from their glorious spheres, and pass away,
To darkle in the trackless void; yet Time,
Time, the tomb-builder, holds his fierce career,
Dark, stern, all-pitiless, and pauses not
Amid the mighty wrecks that strew his path,
To sit and muse, like other conquerors
Upon the fearful ruin he has wrought.

Andrew Carnegie made his first money by peddling a cart full of gooseberries for a farmer in Dunfermline, Scotland.

Project Diana Shoots the Moon



Standing gaunt against the moonlight during experiments in contacting the moon, the radar screen at Evans Signal Laboratory, Belmar, N. J., looks much closer than actual distance from its objective 238,000 miles away. At upper right is Lt.-Col. John H. DeWitt, head of the project, dubbed Diana. Half-second impulses beamed every five seconds move at speed of light, 186,000 miles per second, and make the round trip in two and a half seconds. At lower right is a telescopic picture of the moon's surface.

Enrollment Is Now Up to 830

West Texas State enrollment yesterday stood at 830, including 356 men and 474 women.

This included only the total number of students who enrolled on the campus this long session. It does not include 54 men and 130 women who registered at the Amarillo Center last fall, nor the current enrollment at the Center.

Excluding the second semester enrollment at the Amarillo Center, the total registration on the college level is 1014 for the session.

West Texas State also has a large correspondence instruction list and the Demonstration School is operating at capacity.

Veterans attending West Texas State probably will number 175, and the number is rising steadily.

QUALITY COSTS SO LITTLE

We are getting back to normal production in many items of Household furniture and fixtures which have been missing from the market during the war, but which you have always expected to find at Thompson's when they were available.

We cordially invite your inspection of these lines, and the quality which they represent. In pre-war days you found them standard in price and quality.

As they appear again in our sotck you will find the same high quality, and the prices are always reasonable. It will not be for long that our customers will be willing to buy, regardless of price. They will first demand QUALITY, and at Thompson's they will again find that Quality goods cost so little above the average run of merchandise.

Clark-Miller Wedding Held Here Sunday

By Hollyce Hinkle

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Mary Clark of Canyon and William Harvey Miller of Maywood, Ill., Feburary 9 at 7:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Robert W. Jones read the single ring ceremony beneath an arch of vines and white roses. Baskets of white roses flanked the altar, and roses and fern covered the altar railing. Cathedral candles cast a soft glow over the setting.

As Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played Schumann's "Traumerei," Mary Dell Johnson and Doris Jean McManigal lighted the candles. The girls wore floor length white dresses, white veils, and red roses in their hair, while Mrs. Foster wore a floor length frock of pink lace, with a corsage of white gladiolas.

Mrs. Foster also played DeBussy's "Clair de Lune," and accompanied Mrs. Edgar Vornsand, who sang "Because," by d'Hardelot, and "I Love You Truly," by Bond. Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" was played as the processional, and Mendellsohn's "Wedding Chorus" as the recessional. During the ceremony, Mrs. Foster played "To a Wild Rose."

Charlotte Clark, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a frock of American beauty pink, with elbow length mitts, small bonnet, shoulder length veil, and matching muff.

June Miller, sister of the groom, who served as bridesmaid, wore a turquoise dress with mitts, bonnet, and shoulder length veil to match. Similarly gowned was Betty Clark, the bride's sister, who was maid of honor. Sweet pea corsages adorned the muffs of all of the bride's attendants.

Bill Clark and Kenneth Goodman were ushers, and Barry Clark and Ted Briggs were junior ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Albert Arnold Clark of Canyon. She was wearing ivory brocaded satin with a long train, sweetheart neckline, and fitted sleeves. Her ivory finger-tip veil fell from a head piece of lace and seed pearls. She wore an antique diamond and pearl pin which had been worn by her great-grandmother on her wedding dress. "Something borrowed" was a handmade point lace handkerchief belonging to her mother. The bridal bouquet was of peach colored gladiolas.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. William Herman Miller of Maywood, Ill., also wore navy blue. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Supper was served to the bridal party and families of the bride and groom in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Briggs and Mrs. George C. Harris. Centering the linen-covered table was the bride's cake, decorated with white roses and surrounded by fern and sweet peas. It was flanked by white candles in crystal holders.

After the supper, the couple left for a wedding trip to points west. Mrs. Miller traveled in a mauve gray dressmaker suit with hat to match. Her gray coat was trimmed with brown beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will be at home, after February 25, in Maywood, Ill.

The bride, a graduate of Happy High School and Texas Technological College, Lubbock, is on terminal leave from the Navy. She was the first WAVE from Randall County and was one of 80 WAVES to be trained as aerial navigators.

Seed Loans Are Now Available to Farmers of County

Loans are now being made to finance 1946 crop production in Randall County, according to W. E. Anderson, local Field Supervisor for the Dallas Emergency Crop Loan Office of the Farm Credit Administration.

Applications for these loans are being taken in Canyon at the First National Bank each Monday morning. The security required is a first lien on the crops to be financed. The loans are available only to those farmers unable to secure loans from banks or other sources.

These loans, generally known as "The Seed Loans," have been made in Texas since 1931 and have proved of great benefit to farmers whose cash requirements are small. Repayment of the loans has been High. Borrowers are required to plant large gardens for home use and a balanced program of feed, food and cash crops is encouraged.

A loan to finance the purchase or production of feed is also made on livestock by this agency.

The maximum loan to an individual is $400.

The seed and feed loans are administered in Texas under the direction of W. E. Farwell, manager of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office, 405 U. S. Terminal Annex Building, Dallas 2, Texas.

Three Reasons . .

Why I'm An American

It's a funny thing (I mean "funny peculiar," not "funny to laugh") the way I'm glad I'm an American . . .

It's kind of sudden, too . . . and all mixed up, like you'd been drinking pop all through a ball game and discovered much too late it wasn't pop at all, but champagne.

I feel sort of warm about it, kind of giddy and kind of glad, and downright proud of it, too . . . the way a young fellow would feel if his dad just won the Nobel Prize, or got elected President . . . or maybe the way a young mother feels when her kid stops in his tracks and looks the Ladies Aid over with a fishy eye and then looks straight at her and says the first words he's ever uttered, "Ma-ma!"

That's sort of the way I'm glad I'm an American . . . the way the young fellow and the young mother would feel . . . but that isn't all—not by a long shot.

I don't know how you can be glad and proud and solemn, too, all in one breath like that, but I said it was all mixed up (like stars, and stripes, and firecrackers and the 4-H clubs and the view from Pike's Peak or the Empire State Building all rolled into one) and it is, because I am glad, and I am proud, and then on top of that I feel kind of solemn, too . . . maybe the way Jefferson felt when he walked over to the window to read what he'd written under the title of "The Constitution of The United States Of America" . . .

* * *

Lots of people have written books about guys like George Washington and Abe Lincoln and Tom Edison—yes, and about Hamilton and Ben Franklin and Andy Jackson and plenty of other big men, too. Some of the books say one thing and some another. But I don't think it matters much. I always did hold you could get the measure of a man a whole lot better from the legends and tall tales people invented about him than you could from the things he actually did and said himself.

Take Parson Weem's fable about Goerge Washington and the cherry tree, for example. Why, I guess that's about the most important thing we know about George, next to him being the Father of His Country. And does it make any difference whether he even ever saw a cehrry tree? Of course not. The idea is, he was truthful . . . and that's what's important . . . the fact that every American youngster knows the story about George and the cherry tree and if you want to be a Real American you better be like George Washington and all you have to do to be like George Washington is to be Truthful.

Man, Oh Man! Why, you take Abe Lincoln. Not one in a million really knows the facts about Abe—all of them, dates and names, and all—but show me a kid who doesn't know the story about Abe walking all that distance to give that woman the few pennies change she had coming to her. Every youngster knows the greatest man this country ever produced by his nickname. Think of that! Honest Abe. And what's it boil down to? Why, all you have to do to get to be "A Man for all Ages" is to be honest like Abraham Lincoln.

And is it any wonder people went to see the movies about Tom Edison in such droves, when you stop to think about how all washed-up the rest of the world is, these days, and then remember that the one really great thing Tom Edison stood for was Faith . . . faith in himself, and in Science, and in America? Why, there wasn't a man or a boy who saw those pictures that didn't get the idea; they might not have understood what made the electric light bulb or the phonograph work, but you can bet it's dollars to doughnuts they saw that if you want to be like Tom Edison you've got to have that wonderful mixture of ambition and confidence and courage that's called Faith.

Come to think of it, maybe it isn't such a funny thing—I mean the way I'm glad I'm an American—after all.

* * *

Being glad, and proud, and solemn—all at the same time—isn't so strange when you stop to think exactly what it is you're glad and proud and solemn about, and it seems to me George Washington and Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison are three doggone good reasons for anybody to be glad he's an American. Those fellows (and lots of others like them) made this country, for me. And what's even more important, they left the keys that make it work . . . Truthfulness and Honesty, and Faith.

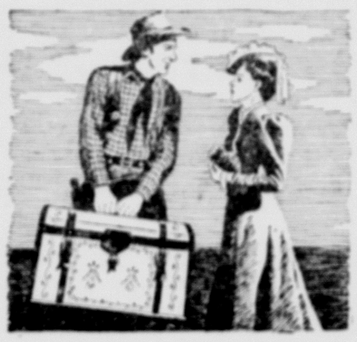
"THE HARVEY GIRLS"

MGM's musical romance in Technicolor

Epic of a famous Eating Place! Hearts, Heroism and Happiness in a Harvey House! When the Santa Fe, back in the last century, pushed its rails on out through the West, Fred Harvey followed with "civilized" eating places along the railroad. Waitresses were ladies. Food was good. Harvey Houses along the Santa Fe became a national institution.



Stir up the Harvey House Girls serving beefsteak and coffee in a wild and woolly frontier town, add a handsome Western hero and a crooked Western political boss, season with seven hit songs, including that toot-toot-tootingest hit, "On the Atchison, Topeka and The Santa Fe," produce it under famous MGM producers, wrap it all up in Technicolor and you have something!

You met her in St. Louis. She made your heart ticktock in "The Clock." Now she'll put your hair in curls in "The Harvey Girls." Who-o-o? Nobody but Judy Garland. Never such a song for Judy to sing as "On the Atchison, Topeka and The Santa Fe." Never such a part for Judy to play. She carries coffee—sings songs. She curbs crime. She rates romance—and she hog-ties her hero as the lights go up.

Winningest cast of the West:

Along with Judy you get He-Man JOHN HODIAK.
PRESTON FOSTER as the vicious villain.
Find-of-the-year ANGELA LANSBURY.
RAY BOLGER with the frisky feet.
Dead Pan VIRGINIA O'BRIEN.
Those comical cutups, MARJORIE MAIN and CHILL WILLS.
And KENNY BAKER, back in pictures, fresh from Broadway and radio successes.
But that's not all.
You get seven singable songs by JOHNNY MERCER and HARRY WARREN, including that Hit of Hits, "On the Atchison, Topeka and The Santa Fe."
You get direction and production by MGM's famous George Sidney and Arthur Freed. And all in Technicolor.

Historically "The Harvey Girls" grew up with Santa Fe. Our railroad and their eating houses pushed through the Southwest and West when towns were scarce, times were tough, and a Colt's 45 was a man's standard equipment. Today, the 70-year-old Fred Harvey company—which has been under the management of the same Harvey family for three generations—operates Santa Fe dining cars and the Fred Harvey hotels and restaurants located along the railroad.

"The Harvey Girls" is a delightful and wholesome entertainment the entire family will enjoy. Watch your newspapers for announcement on when "The Harvey Girls" will be in town.

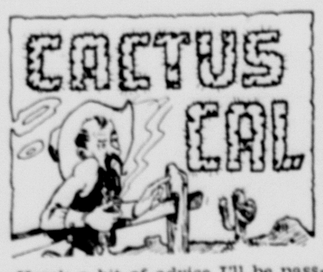
BEST FOOT FORWARD
By Geraldine Small

Are you giving yourself a fair chance? A chance to develop, mentally and emotionally so that you will be prepared for the future? Or are you letting some complex of emotional reaction hold you back? Face those things things squarely, those things which are keeping you from developing properly. Fear of criticism, perhaps, is making you sit back quietly while others take the lead. There are two kinds of criticism: (1) constructive (2) adverse. Constructive criticism, when presented in the proper manner and accepted with the proper attitude can aid in your development into a well-liked person and a better student. When teachers offer suggestions for the improvement of your behavior, they do so with no intention of hurting you. Their only motive is to help you, and if you insist upon wearing your feelings on your sleeve, you can't expect them not to get bruised occasionally. Someone once said to avoid criticism say nothing, do nothing, be nothing. Sounts easy doesn't it? But if you're going to follow this formula you won't get much fun or satisfaction out of life, will you? It wouldn't work anyway and people would still talk about what a droop you were. The solution, therefore, since you can't avoid criticism is to learn to accept the correction and to use it to your best advantage. The other form, adverse criticism, can't do anyone any good, it's trivial and unimportant and should be disregarded entirely. Keep your personality free from harmful fears and complexes. Put your best foot forward!

Preparation and the serving of food is the subject that the third year Home Economics girls are studying. The past two and three weeks they have been sponsoring the clean-up of the locker room, washed walls, cleaned out lavatories, cleaned off window sills, and cleaned off the top of the lockers.



Here's a bit of advice I'll be passin' on to you men of the school: never call a gal a hen but call her "chick," never a cat—but "kitty," never a rat—but a "mousie."

Snoopy me shares snacks of sizzling scoops:

Neil Thurman and Katherine Jo Love came out of the show together the other night.

Billy Spann and Charline Simmons have a date for Saturday night.

Cheri Kilchriste has been makin' eyes at Malcolm Gunter, or had you noticed?

Guy Brant is wearing Sue Ann Colwell's bracelet. (That bracelet really gets around).

But what I'd like to know is, who is this secret lover of Wilma Schuette?

Overheard: Bobby Foster telling G. J. Bonds that if he tells anybody what happened Saturday night she'd slay him.

Overseen: Juanita Avent "slipping" James Inman a note in English I.

"Don't be too critical on your wife's judgment; after all she marched to the altar with you."

Well, Bill Abbott and Richard Walters when are ya' gonna' be payin' me on that bet we made about your not havin' any dates for a year. Yak, yak, I knew you couldn't resist "feminine allure!"

To M. E. Rhoades and Gracie Boyd ONLY: (They say a hint to the wise is sufficient. . . .) Your notes are very interesting.

Whew, have you heard all o' the dates for the FHA banquet. . . . Joan Morton and C. L. Hood, Sue Dickerson and James Rigsby, Fay Dickerson and Marvin Fite, Verna Davenport and Ridings Sloan, Pauline Seales and Lee Bailey, June Jennings and Malcolm Gunter, and Geraldine Small and Robert Fisher.

Put two and two together and you get four—at least that's what Mrs. Knott told me. Wal, Ruth Prichard said in her senior personality that she had no boy friend but her favorite song was "Some Sunday Morning." Now I'm askin' ya' what does that add up to? Hmmmmm?

"So live that when the summons comes . . . the preacher can say a few nice things."

"Come out to Korea to help us with teaching, nursing, engineering or preaching," begs Dr. Charles Allen Clark, Presbyterian missionary, as he spoke to the students of Canyon High School Monday at 11 a. m.

He has been in Korea since 1902 returning to the United States only five times, since becoming a missionary there.

After escaping a three year penitentiary term in a Japanese jail only by a miracle, Dr. Clark came back to America the last time just before World War II.

He was pastor of 53 churches; 46 in the country and seven in the suburbs of Pyengyang City. Dr. Clark has produced 35 books in the Korean language and 6 in English.

He plans to return to his field of work as soon as he may secure transportation accommodations.

Exhibit Portrays Many Pictures

Art lovers of Canyon High School collaborated to have an art exhibit during the week of February 18 to the 22. Mrs. Merchant will sponsor this exhibit and the Colonial Art Company has agreed to send its collection. Reproductions from foreign as well as American artists will be in this collection. These canvasses will be shown in a room at least 20x40. Pictures may be purchased by individuals arrangng from $3.95 to $75.00, but the school will receive some pictures free for its work in exhibiting the collection. Admission for the grade school students will be ten cents, high school students 15 cents, and adults 25 cents.

Senior Class Has Valentine Party

Valentine eve found the Senior class ready and rarin' for a party scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Home Ec. room. All through the evening the red and white theme prevailed. The girls wore flowing formals; while the boys wore choking ties and best "Sund'y go ta' meetin'" suits.

A Valentine box highlighted the gala festivities and appropriate refreshments were served. Chaperons were Mrs. T. L. Devin, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. E. P. Harding, and Mrs. A. W. Harding.

Members of the eighth grade class attended a tacky party for the last two periods in the High School gymnasium, Thursday, Feb 14th. Skating and playing ping-pong was the main entertainment of the evening. Prizes were given to the tackiest boy and girl of the group. Roomparents served light refreshments just before the party ended.

Thursday, February 7, the girls of Canyon High School met in the auditorium for the first all-girl assembly of the year. Girls of the third-year homemaking class had charge of the program and each gave a speech as to how to improve the girls' locker room. These assemblies are to be held every two weeks.

Contest Arouses Group Interest

Again sponsoring a contest which gives college scholarships for prizes, the Pepsi-Cola Company has set Friday, February 15 at the date for the written test which will determine the winners. Prior to this time, each senior class in the United States and the District of Columbia sent in the number elected to take the test. One boy and one girl from the senior class of Canyon High School will take the test tomorrow. A total of 121 scholarships are provided; two for each state in the continental United States and the District of Columbia; 20 additional scholarships for Negro students in the southern states which have separate school systems for Negroes, and one for Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The four-year awards cover full tuition for four college years, $25 per month for board, room and books, traveling expenses and a winner in this contest may attend any college he or she may choose.

Twenty-one classroom teachers met last week with Mrs. R. E. Ball and Mrs. A. K. Goodman serving as co-hostesses. These teachers discussed the average salaries of Plains teachers, equalization of salaries, and cumulative sick leave. Before adjourning, they decided to meet again in March with Mrs. Kathryn Davies as hostess.

Dimmitt Defeats Canyon 46-42

Scoring first in the game Friday night, the Eagles got off to a thrilling start which they kept up all through the game. Although defeater 42 to 46 the Eagle cagers put up a great fight and kept the Dimmitt Bobcats guessing. At the half the score was 23 even up and when the whistle blew announcing the third quarter, Dimmitt led with 35 points to their credit, Canyon following close behind by a tally of 33.

Through the complete game the margin between the two scores did not often vary more than two points, until about the last five minutes of the game when the Bobcats began scoring and took the lead to mark up another victory for themselves.

Dimmitts second string scored first and made a four point lead in the first few seconds of play, but the Eagles second string stayed close behind and Dimmitts victory was hard won.

Homemakers Follow Regulation Teachin

Miss Ruth Riley is the new student teacher for the F. H. A. Department of Canyon High. She teaches the first year class at 10:00.

Janice Leggitt, Alice Wiley, Fern Zimmer and Martha Hammond are also college students that come to the high school for student teaching. They are members of the Senior Class from West Texas State.

Their duty is to observe for six weeks, as studing the school, school system, and the students. After the first six weeks, they then teach from six to nine weeks.

The student teachers are in Canyon High from 10:00 to 1:45 each day.

Pat Britain, from Britain's Studio, Canyon, took annual pictures of the Future Farmers of America, Spanish Club, Future Homemakers of America, Annual Staff, Student Faculty Congress, Press Club and the Cheer leaders, Monday, February 11, at noon.

David Horn of Canyon has taken Lester Smith's job of driving the Canyon Independent School Bus. Mr. Horn has driven the Drone Ralph School Bus for three years. Lester Smith moved to California last week.

Shepherd Directs Musical Classes

For the first time in about two years, Canyon High School is having a band. So far there are only about 22 pieces and Mr. N. D. Shepherd, instructor, is very anxious to get more to join. The school owns a number of instruments that are not being used by anyone. These are good instruments and the school would like for someone to use them, as they do not cost the person who plays them anything. Anyone who wishes to use them may easily arrange with Mr. Shepherd to do so. Mr. Shepherd states that he would prefer seeing the parents about the instruments if they would like for their children to perform in the band.

Teaching chorus also, Mr. Shepherd would be glad for anyone who will, to come in at noon Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week to practice.

In the past, Canyon High's band has won high honors for both marching and playing, and one may see evidence of this in the trophy cases in the main hall. It is hoped by everyone concerned that the band will be able to soon regain its high standing among the bands of the state.

Buff Forward

West Texas State's Neil "Pinky" Jackson stands 6 feet, 1 inch in height, weighs 185 pounds and comes from Stratford. Jackson plays the position of forward, usually, but can play any role on the team very well. He won three letters in high school basketball and played on the Stratford team advancing to state finals in 1944. "Pinky" has won all-district honors, all-regional honors, and was named on the all-star team in five tournaments while at Stratford. Another honor was that of being selected best all-round athlete during his senior year. Jackson is 17 years old and names ping-pong as his number one hobby.

Easy Victories Here Last Week Won by Locals, 73-45, 69-39

Return Engagement in Abilene This Week to Decide Meet Entries

West Texas State's steadily improving cagers are Abilene bound this week, intent on running their total victories over the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys to four. The games will be played Friday and Saturday nights.

The Buffs increased their Border Conference district wins to four as against one loss to Texas Tech, in defeating the Cowboys here last week, 73-45 and 69-39. With Buff starters showing a wide margin of superiority over the visitors, Coach Gus Miller used his reserves freely.

Gene McCollum, new basketball coach at H-S.U., has a green squad which is not ready for such competition as the Buffaloes. Buffalo starters were Capt. J. W. Malone, forwards Ledru Jacobs and Bill Stockman, center Hank Decker, and Borden Price, the other guard. These men built up a 21-9 lead Friday before Coach Miller relieved them. Stringers ran the score to 33-16 at the half. Borden Price had a big night, making 15 points for high scoring honors. Charley Kelly, Midland freshman, made 12 points for the Cowboys. Among the reserves, Charles Taylor and Monk Ford scored well for West Texas State.

Saturday night brought a repetition of Friday's victory. Only a brief rally against the reserves gave local fans any thrill of apprehension and this melted when the regulars went back in. Later in the game, the reserves did better against the Abilene men. Scoring honors for the night went to Hank Decker, who made 14 points. Ben Williams led the Cowboys with 12 points.

Wins at Abilene this week would put the Buffaloes in the Border Conference championship tournament at Albuquerque on March 1 and 2, regardless of the outcome of the game with Texas Tech here February 20. Tech also will go to the title event.

Tomberlin Improves After Collision

Jack Tomberlin, the most seriously injured in the West Texas State bus-automobile collision Tuesday night, is improving rapidly and is expected to be back in school this week following treatments in an Amarillo hospital for a brain concussion.

The accident occurred when the Buffalo bus carrying twenty college students was struck by an automobile two miles south of Happy. The bus was turned over, causing considerable damage, but all passengers escaped with a few cuts and bruises with the exception of Tomberlin.

College students were returning from the Texas Tech-West Texas State basketball game, which was played in Lubbock, at the time of the accident. Mr. Hugh Renfro of Canyon was the driver of the bus.

String Quartet Will Play Here on February 20

The internationally acclaimed Hart House Quartet will be presented here by the Lyceum Committee on February 20, according to Dr. Wallace R. Clark.

The string quartet will give a concert at 8:15 o'clock in the evening. Admission will be one dollar for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children.

The Hart House group is a Toronto, Canada quartet.

O. Henry's real name was William Sydney Porter.

Calves Wallop Whiteface Five

On Friday afternoon, the W. T. Calves corraled the Hereford Whitefaces, 50-18, making the total of twenty-five victories to five losses. The only opponents able to outscore the Calves this season are Stratford, Carter-Riverside, Dumas, Goodwell, Okla., and Amarillo.

The Calves quickly gained a 15-point lead. This rattled Hereford, and the visitors managed 18 points the entire game.

Hooper led the locals scoring 25 of the total 50 points. Leub was high point for the Whitefaces with 9 points.

Alvin Jennings was one of the starting five and played a swell game. "Set-shot" Johnson was unable to play.

CLAUDE DEFEATED

Tuesday evening the Calves ventured to Claude to test the Mustang's basketball skill.

W. T. grabbed a quick lead and held it throughout the game.

Hooper and Russell took scoring honors with 13 and 11 points respectively. The final score was 39-28.

Senate To Form Hutchinson Club On Thursday

First step in the re-organization of County Clubs will be taken this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when students from Hutchinson County meet in the auditorium to plan activities for the spring semester.

Dormant on the campus during war years, county clubs serve as social groups and getting-acquainted mediums.

Eventually the Senate, which sponsors initial meetings of the organizations, hopes to begin formation of county groups for students of all localities represented at West Texas, including those from out-of-state.

Winnie Fred Ramage, president of the Student Association, and freshman senator Paul Teague are in charge of arrangements for the Hutchinson Club.

Prisoner's Statue Presented to W. T. Art Department

A statue, "Sleeping Woman," has been presented to the W. T. art department by Col. Carvolth, commanding officer of the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp.

It is a life-size nude and is the work of an Italian prisoner.

The statue will be useful in the work of the life drawing class, according to Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the department of art.

Buff Guard

Charles Taylor, freshman from Canyon, plays guard on the Buffalo backetball team. "Horse" won two letters in high school basketball and one in track. He was high school all-district cager and all-tournament player. Taylor is 17 years old, stands 6 feet, 1 inch in height and weighs 190 pounds. He was outstanding in the game with New Mexico Mines.

Dr. Freed Teaches Many Classes

Dr. C. W. Freed, formerly Major Freed of the U. S. Army, has returned to W.T.S.C. as head of the speech department and is conducting classes for the 130 students who enrolled in the various speech courses. In addition to teaching classes here he has one in public speaking at the Amarillo center.

Dr. Freed said that he will assist Alpha Psi Omega and the Campus Theatre groups in any plays they may want to present but that unless competent director assistance can be found the speech department will not give performances for the public this semester.

On Friday Dr. Freed spoke before the International Relations Club on conditions in England as he saw them. Yesterday he talked on War time Philosophies Encountered in Europe During World War II for the American Legion Post No. 97 in Canyon.
